Lessons learned

- We need to be responsive to community needs.
- The “new normal” is anything but, and that’s okay.
 - Flexibility is imperative
 - Hybrid options are challenging but necessary
- The Center is valuable to both families and CSU students.

Value for All

- “I am so grateful for this program. My son has shown a greater interest in reading and school period.”
- "I will bring my child back next year. She looked forward to each session."
- "We are very excited to be a part of tutoring next semester. We are all very pleased and Julian loved the classes and Mr. Sean."
- "I think this is a wonderful program. It has helped my child tremendously!"
- “My child is improving, and he greatly appreciates your help. And so do I.”
- “I enjoyed my time at the CLC and tutoring my student. All materials the CLC provided were helpful and educational. Great overall experience.”
- "This is a very valuable experience as a future educator."
- "This was a great experience for me as a future teacher. Working with one student allowed me to focus on his strengths and weaknesses. I also got to create many activities based on his interests."
- "One of the best experiences of my grad program."
