OCTEO Fall 2010 Conference

Affirming Our Identity: Empowering Educators in a Time of Change

Wednesday – Friday October 13 – 15, 2010
Crowne Plaza Hotel - Dublin, OH

The field of Education is constantly changing. Changes are made as research evolves and new ideas are adopted, and changes are also imposed upon education from societal constituents. In times of rapid change, it is easy for educators to lose focus on the essential idea of who we are and what our mission should be. Institutions of higher education who prepare educators need to affirm our identity as important contributors to the system of education. It is also important for us to empower future educators to weather the storms of change in positive and productive ways. Proposals should address how your department or institution through pedagogy, partnerships, curriculum, or networking empowers faculty, candidates, or classroom teachers and administrators to assert their identity and become transformational educational leaders. Presentations should be planned for one hour and should include time for discussion. Audience size is anticipated to be 25-40 persons and you must plan to present on Thursday October 14, 2010. A brief outline of the proposed presentation, following the format listed below, should be submitted by Friday, September 10, 2010, to:
